

Your Family. Your Future. Your Canada. The Liberal plan to strengthen the economy

When families are strong, our economy is strong. That's why the Liberal Party is putting families first – ahead of billions in Conservative spending on corporate giveaways, fighter jets and mega-prisons:

- A new Learning Passport to help families pay for college and university with at least $4,000 in tax-free, non-repayable assistance to every student;
- Stronger Public Pensions to enhance the Canada Pension Plan, make it easier to save for retirement and more help for low-income seniors;
- Reduce the deficit to 1% of GDP within two years with no increases to personal income taxes, the small business tax rate or the GST;
- A Youth Hiring Incentive to make it easier for small and medium sized businesses to hire young Canadians; and
- Provide tax incentives to boost investment in the emerging sectors of clean resources, health and biosciences, and digital technology.

We can strengthen families – without raising your taxes – if we stop corporate give-aways, turn the page on wasteful spending like $30-billion fighter jets, and focus on what really matters: giving every Canadian the tools to succeed in the years ahead.
